

Theoni Koukoulaki

Address : 143 Liosion & Theirsiou 6, Athens, 104 45 Greece
Phone number: 0030210-8200204, 8200199
Fax number : 0030210-8200222
Email : koukoulaki@elinyae.gr

Education

- Rural and Surveying Engineer, Technical University of Thessalonica, 1983-1989
- Two years postgraduate programme on industrial ergonomics and Health & Safety, Greek Ergonomics Society in collaboration with the Loughborough University, UK, 1990-1992
- Currently she is carrying out her PhD in Loughborough University, UK on the subject: «Systems of production optimisation and OSH consequences».

Work Experience

- Head of Occupational Safety Department, Hellenic Institute for Occupational Health & Safety (ELINYAE), December 2002-
- Researcher in European Trade Union Technical Bureau for Health & Safety (TUTB) based in Brussels, 1999-2002 (she was selected after a European contest)
- Researcher in ELINYAE, 1995-1999
- Occupational Health & Safety consulting company

During her research experience she was project manager in risk assessment studies in various sectors. She is also collaborating with the Thematic Centre Work Environment of European Agency for Safety and Health at Work, as the contact person for ELINYAE. He is project manager for ELINYAE tasks in the Consortium of the European 6th Framework Project NEW OSH ERA on new and emerging risks.

She participated in the drafting group of the European Commission for the amendment of the Personal Protective Equipment Directive and she was member of the Adhoc group: musculoskeletal disorders of the Advisory OSH Committee. She was also member of three technical working groups of CEN /TC 122: Ergonomics on safety of work equipment. She is author of several books on health & safety that were published by ELINYAE and TUTB.

Foreign Languages

English, French